Aims and objectives

Formatted: Font: 11 pt, Complex Script Font: Calibri, 11 pt

We believe that education in PSHE and citizenship enables children to become healthier, more independent and more responsible members of society. We encourage our pupils to play a positive role in contributing to the life of the school and the wider community. In so doing, we help to develop their sense of self-worth. We teach them how society is organised and governed. We ensure that the children experience the process of democracy through participation in the school council. We teach children about their rights and about their responsibilities. They learn to appreciate what it means to be a positive member of a diverse and multi-cultural society.

Our objectives in the teaching of PSHE and citizenship are to:

Formatted: Heading 3, Don't add space between paragraphs of the same style

- know and understand what is meant by a healthy lifestyle;
- be aware of safety issues;
- understand what makes for good relationships with others;
- have respect for other people and show sensitivity towards others;
- be thoughtful and responsible members of their community and their school;
- become active members of our democratic society;
- develop self-confidence and self-esteem;
- make informed choices regarding personal and social issues;
- develop good relationships with other members of the community.

The aim is to provide our pupils with the opportunity to experience PSHE to the fullest extent by:

Formatted: Space After: 0 pt, Don't add space between paragraphs of the same style, Line spacing: single, No bullets or numbering

- Embedding high quality PSHE experiences with the school day.
- Making purposeful links with other subjects to make learning relevant.
- Making a curriculum that equips children to deal with life's daily challenges.

PSHE and citizenship curriculum planning

We organise the PSHE and citizenship curriculum in a variety of ways. We use the new curriculum . However, we are flexible in the way this is delivered. Sometimes, for example when dealing with issues in drugs education, we teach PSHE and citizenship as a discrete subject. On other occasions, we introduce PSHE and citizenship topics through teaching in other subjects. For example, when teaching about local environmental issues in geography, we offer pupils the opportunity to find out who is responsible for the maintenance and upkeep of local parks and cycle paths. Also, as there is a large overlap between the programme of study for religious education and the aims of PSHE and citizenship, we deliver a considerable amount of the PSHE and citizenship curriculum through our religious education lessons as part of our come and see program.

We also develop PSHE and citizenship through various activities and whole-school events. For example, the school council representatives from each form meet regularly to discuss school matters. We offer residential visits in Key Stage 2 to Winmarleigh Hall and Colomendy, where there is a focus on developing pupils' self-esteem and giving them opportunities to develop leadership skills and positive group work.

The Early Years Foundation Stage

We teach PSHE and citizenship in foundation stage as an integral part of the our topic work. As the reception class is part of the Early Years Foundation we relate the PSHE and citizenship aspects of the children's work to the objectives set out in the prime area of learning 'personal, social and emotional development' strand of the curriculum.

PSHE and citizenship and ICT

ICT contributes to the teaching of PSHE and citizenship in that children in ICT classes learn to work together in a collaborative manner. They also develop a sense of global citizenship by using the Internet and e-mail. This scheme aims to develop a set of safe and discriminating behaviours for pupils to adopt when using the Internet and other technologies. Through discussion of safety and other issues related to electronic communication, the children develop their own view about the use and misuse of ICT, and they also gain an insight into the interdependence of ICT users around the world. Online role-play software provides a very safe arena to try out actions without harmful consequences.

PSHE and citizenship and inclusion

We teach PSHE and citizenship to all children, regardless of their ability. Our teachers provide learning opportunities matched to the individual needs of children with learning difficulties. When teaching PSHE and citizenship, teachers take into account the targets set for the children in their school support plan, some of which may be directly related to PSHE and citizenship targets.

For gifted and talented pupils, teachers will provide additional opportunities to take responsibility, develop leadership skills, think creatively and use their talents for the good of the class or the wider community.

Our teachers assess the children's progress in PSHE and citizenship by observing their participation in class and their relationships with their peers and adults. We have clear expectations of what the pupils will know, understand and be able to do at the end of each Key Stage.

Our teachers record any appropriate achievement for each pupil, such as their contribution to the life of the class or the school, in their files and we will report these achievements to parents and carers each year.

Formatted: Font: 11 pt, Complex Script Font: Calibri, 11 pt

We encourage our pupils to keep records, in their personal record-of-achievement file, of their contribution to the life of the school and the community.

Formatted: Font: 11 pt, Complex Script Font: Calibri, 11 pt

We do not set formal examinations in PSHE and citizenship. The assessments that we make of pupil achievement are positive and record achievement in its widest sense.

Monitoring and review

Formatted: Font: (Default) Calibri, 11 pt, Complex Script Font: Calibri, 11 pt

The planning and coordination of the teaching in PSHE are the responsibility of the PSHE subject leader, who also:

Formatted: Left, Space Before: 0 pt, After: 0 pt, Don't add space between paragraphs of the same style

- supports colleagues in their teaching, by keeping informed about current developments in the subject, and by providing a strategic lead and direction for PSHE;
- gives the headteacher an annual summary report in which the strengths and weaknesses in the subject are evaluated, and areas for further improvement are indicated.
