

Hello Year Five,

I really hope you are all doing well. In music this week we have an easy body percussion warm up to some pop music to get your brains ready for music. I really like this song, I hope you enjoy it too 😊

Next, we have a great video all about the Romantic era in music history. I like the way the teacher makes it easy to understand and the drawings help too. Don't worry if she talks about things, you don't quite understand, even if you just pick up on one characteristic of the Romantic era, I will be happy 😊

Here is the song we were working on a little last half term; I like it as you can follow the lyrics and sing with the backing track. I hope you enjoy singing along, I am really looking forward to hearing you all singing it together soon 😊

Have a great week!
